

"And I will bring again the captivity of my people of Israel, and they shall build the waste cities, and inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, and drink the wine thereof; they shall also make gardens, and eat the fruit of them. And I will plant them upon their land, and they shall no more be pulled up out of their land which I have given them, saith the LORD thy God." Amos 9:14-15

As He said, the desert has bloomed. Trees were planted, fields were harvested, and the land prospered and grew under the newly formed nation's watchful eye. God had brought His people home to stay. Ishmael had long supplanted her, and to this day is trying to claim ownership of stolen property. God granted Canaan to Israel as He promised Abraham, and while both Ishmael and Isaac can claim Abraham as their father, only one is the rightful heir according to the promise. Israel has been replanted to move no more. Consider the position in which Israel finds herself. Completely surrounded by those who work desperately to rid the earth of her, she is feared and she prospers. Can this be anything but the protective hand of the Almighty? Those who wish her removed foolishly strive against the promise of God.

"Why do the heathen rage, and the people imagine a vain thing? The kings of the earth set themselves, and the rulers take counsel together, against the LORD, and against his anointed, saying, Let us break their bands asunder, and cast away their cords from us. He that sitteth in the heavens shall laugh: the Lord shall have them in derision. Then shall he speak unto them in his wrath, and vex them in his sore displeasure." Psalms 2:1-5

It will be interesting to watch Israel's enemy's futile efforts to destroy her. They're going to push until God has had enough, and then we'll just see if Allah is really a god, or the figment of a mercenary's imagination. What God plants, stays planted until He moves it. I personally have no doubts as to the outcome, but some people are too foolish for their own good. Satan would like nothing better than to make just one of God's promises void, but it will never happen. God said He would bring Israel back, and He did. He promised that they would leave no more, and they won't. He promised the land would prosper, and it is. You want proof that God's Word is true? Pay attention. Think you can defy God? Tell you what, maybe, you can keep the wind from blowing, or stop the rain, or the sunrise, or... Get my point? God said it; that settles it!

"For ever, O LORD, thy word is settled in heaven. Thy faithfulness is unto all generations: thou hast established the earth, and it abideth. They continue this day according to thine ordinances: for all are thy servants." Psalms 119:89-91
