

"And the scribe...said, He hath Beelzebub, and by the prince of the devils casteth he out devils. And he called them unto him, and said unto them in parables, How can Satan cast out Satan?...Verily I say unto you, All sins shall be forgiven unto the sons of men, and blasphemies wherewith soever they shall blaspheme: But he that shall blaspheme against the Holy Ghost hath never forgiveness, but is in danger of eternal damnation." Mark 3:22-23, 28-29

What they said in a nutshell, “Jesus is possessed by Satan!”

My, my, my! When Satan can’t counterfeit God’s Work, he blatantly blasphemes it. Attributing the work of the Blessed Holy Spirit to devils is the “unpardonable sin.” To blatantly blaspheme the Holy Spirit by denigrating His power to Satan is unforgivable. Oh, there are many workers of evil who claim their power is of God, but while it is blasphemy to do so, it is not unpardonable. It’s interesting to me that the so-called “faith” healers in their ego-driven “ministries” need the “multitudes” to come to them. They couldn’t be bothered to go where healing is really needed. The truly ill folk know that they are frauds. Most of them lie in hospital beds, unable to leave, yet they get no visit from the “Great Men of Faith.” Hello?! Why do we not see Benny Hinn and the others like him healing the sick in hospitals if they have such power? Is it because they have it not and they are frauds, or worse yet they have no Christ-like compassion, and are callous and cruel at heart? Still, with all that, it is not unpardonable. During the Catholic Spanish Inquisition many believers were said to be possessed of devils and burned alive, because they refused to go to Mass or refused to take the wafer of communion. The Catholic myth of “Transubstantiation,” (not found in scripture) claims that the priest/man calls God out of heaven and places Him in the Eucharist so that men may “eat” their salvation. Utter nonsense! That a man has power over God is preposterously false! Many God-fearing people swallow clap-trap because they believe their “church” instead of reading the Bible for themselves. The dogma is, “common” people cannot understand the “mysteries of God’s Word without an interpreter, a man trained by “holy men” to “explain” it. There you have it, a lie neatly wrapped in Truth. It is true we need an “Interpreter” to understand the Scriptures. God sent the Holy Comforter to “guide us into all Truth.” Men who usurp the position of God are like Lucifer who said, “I will...be like the Most High.” When men accuse those full of the Holy Ghost of being possessed by Satan, they are committing the unpardonable sin, and are in “danger of eternal damnation.” Otherwise, there is nothing that cannot be forgiven.

*"Howbeit when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth: for he shall not speak of himself; but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak: and he will show you things to come."
John 16:13*
